

TWO STATES TO JOIN IN PICNIC

A joint committee from the New York and Pennsylvania societies have made all arrangements for the picnic and get-together meeting of these two societies this afternoon and evening at Riverside park, at which picnic the features will be a grand tug-of-war between the ladies of the two societies, the outcome of which will be a joint banquet, the eats to be paid for by the society which loses the tug-of-war. Each team is to be captained by a gentleman, and this event promises to go down in the history of the Salt River valley as one of its greatest athletic contests. It is also rumored that the winning tug-of-war team will challenge a like team from any of the other state societies, particularly Indiana or Missouri.

J. C. Reed and W. D. O'Neill are scheduled for a swimming race for gold, and on account of J. C. Reed having been called a farmer by some of the New Yorkers, he states that he is out to win this race, and thinks the article which appeared in an evening paper stating that O'Neill would be the favorite is wrong, as he expects to go to the harbor, a 1 to 8 shot. It is rumored that Reed did not come from a farm, but is a husky miner, exathlete and all-round Pennsylvania sport. As O'Neill is well known about town, further comment is unnecessary.

At this picnic these two societies will talk over plans for participation in the All States' day parade, which has become one of the features of fair week in Phoenix.

The New Yorkers won the silver loving cup last year, with their float "The Statue of Liberty," and the Pennsylvanians are going to think up a plan to win this cup from the New Yorkers. This spirit is actuating the two societies, and is the spirit that is spreading rapidly among the other state societies, which should make this year's parade contest.

The buses will run to the park. No gate admission will be charged up to 5:00 p. m., the swimming pool will be full of clean water, the bath house will be open and suits available, the baskets will be put to rest, and the tables set, the park will be lighted in the evening, and the committee hopes all New Yorkers and Pennsylvanians, whether members of the two societies or not, will come out and help make this affair a success.

The committee consists of Mrs. W. H. McKean, W. M. Higgins, Dr. R. M. Tafel, D. W. Smith, Chas. Corrigan, H. C. Raup.

"TIZ" FOR SORE TIRED FEET--AH!

"TIZ" is Grand For Aching, Swollen, Sweaty, Calloused Feet or Corns

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ." "TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "TIZ" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions. Get a 25 cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "TIZ." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

WINTER CORRAL IS BURNED OUT

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the private corral of E. H. Winters, a prominent rancher, at Tenth avenue and Buchanan, shortly before midnight last night.

With cries that his place was burning up, caretaker Robinson, bedridden with rheumatism for several days, apprised neighbors of the fire. A woman living next door screamed and the alarm was given. In a few moments, passersby had been gathered, the twelve-foot fence surrounding the stable had been battered down, and several teams of valuable mules were led out to safety.

By this time, the entire structure was wrapped in flames, which had seemed to come from several tons of baled hay near the street entrance. There was some delay in giving the alarm, a yard engine in the Santa Fe yards, first spreading the news of the fire. Engines 1 and 2 responded, several lines of hose were laid, and the surrounding residences were saved, by the quick application of water. Nothing could be done at that time to save the stable or corral as the burning hay proved stubborn. The way the fire had eaten its way between the bales, made it appear that the blaze started in the store-room. It was given as a theory that spontaneous combustion, originating in the hot masses of damp, green hay had caused the fire. It could not be learned whether or not there was insurance to cover the loss, which was total.

AMUSEMENTS

A STRONG MORAL IN SCANDAL PICTURE AT THE LAMARA THEATER

"And there's a lust no man can tame, of loudly publishing a neighbor's shame; On eagle's wings immortal scandals fly."

While virtuous actions are but born to die, "Scandal" is a great picture. It has a moral, a strong one, and it tells it in no uncertain terms. The film is a five-reel picture, written by Lois Weber and produced by Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley, the same combination that made the popular and sensational "Hypocrites." This great Broadway feature will be the program at the Lamara theater today and tomorrow.

The story of "Scandal" deals with the tragedy of idle gossip. Its talented author got her idea from a newspaper editorial based upon an everyday newspaper item. Thus the story is intensely human, fascinating in its swiftly moving plot development. There is nothing morbid or distasteful about this absorbing play, but it does make one pause and think with regret of every word of idle gossip one has ever listened to or repeated.

Scandal is the sort of a movie play that makes the movies worth while. It is the sort that gets to the movie fans hard. It is a play that cannot be boasted too strongly. Scandal is one of the biggest things that has ever been filmed.

A NEW STATUE IS THE LATEST AT COLISEUM

Tonight is change night again at the Coliseum, and if the show is as good as the one seen last night it will be above par.

"The New Statue" is the name of the piece and it has a suggestion in the name that spells humor.

Jessie Buttons is doing his famous, rube character. This is Mr. Buttons' very best character. Neil Harrison is doing a character again and she is a very clever character woman. Floa Green will be seen as a strong, healthy girl fresh from the farm.

Albert Snow is the scheming villain who sells the statue and hires the negro servant to help him close with the girl. Mal Wheeler is the poor farmer boy who is passionately in love with the girl, but fails to win her for his wife. As the old story goes, "the other fellow beats him to it." And last, but not least, Lee Harrison will be seen as the negro servant. Suffice to say he will be just as funny as ever.

Mr. Harrison couldn't be funnier, as he is now the big scream. Mr. Harrison's support in "The New Statue" will be extra good.

The song numbers will be up to the standard and the pretty little dancing dolls will be there with all kinds of good, lively and pretty dancing.

One word for the chorus of the Rose Buds company. The dancing dolls have received more compliments than any chorus that Butler and Payne have ever brought here. They are all young ladies and beauties at that.

Edward Connelly at the Empress "Morse Covington" is a beautiful story of the Southland in its antebellum days. Edward Connelly takes the part of the lovable old southern gentleman, who has only one fault, and that is a mania for gambling that he cannot control, and he finally loses his fine old southern home, by betting on a horse race. Old Don,

Miss Kughe, Eleven, Makes Wonderful R. R. Trip Alone

Consigned to Care of Southern Pacific Officials, Little Miss Finds Genial Officials Fine Guides to Phoenix.

Very enthusiastic over a long railroad journey, but anxious to see the daddy, whom she has not set eyes on in nine years, Jessie Kughe, aged eleven, arrived safely in Phoenix yesterday, from Albany, Oregon. She has made the entire trip alone, but with the careful supervision of Southern Pacific officials.

The little miss has one more lap on her long journey, that from Phoenix to Hassayampa, where her father, J. D. Kughe will meet her and take her to his ranch near Arlington.

Equipped with a letter from Agent A. A. Mickel at Albany, the young wanderer set out to make an officially conducted tour of over a thousand miles to Phoenix. She made transfers at both San Francisco and Los Angeles, accomplishing them safely with the interested aid of Southern Pacific people. She thoroughly enjoyed the ride, was interested in everything she saw, and had not a particle of trouble anywhere.

Mr. Mickel wrote as follows:

"To All Concerned:

The bearer, Miss Jessie Kughe, eleven years old, is on her way to Phoenix, Arizona. She is being put in our care and will each and every one do all in their power to make the long journey safe and pleasant for her. Watch over her with the usual Southern Pacific care and attention.

Yours truly

A. A. MICKEL,

Agent.

The little one arrived on Train No. 22 at 11:15 yesterday morning, in charge of Conductor F. C. Gramer of the A. E. R. R.

This morning she leaves for Hassayampa in charge of Conductor Stowell, who will see that she reaches her dad in good order."

mas that are distinctly worth while. Tomorrow the Lion will present Irene Bowditch in "The Spendthrift," an extraordinary film dramatization of Porter Emerson Browne's celebrated play, and it is one of the big feature attractions of the season at the Lion, but will be shown without advance in prices. "The Spendthrift" should be seen by every married man and woman.

Marguerite Clark at the Arizona Today Only

The fascinating little star, Marguerite Clark, in the celebrated Spanish love romance entitled "The Pretty Sister of Jose," will be the offering at the Arizona tonight for the last time.

The love romance is taken around old Madrid, Spain, and is beautifully staged as well as a piece in which Miss Clark is seen to great advantage.

This will also be remembered as Jack Pickford's first leading role, in which he is seen as Jose.

The cast has been well selected and the locations are perfect, with many of the scenes taken in Southern California.

"The Pretty Sister of Jose" will be shown tonight only, with an entire change tomorrow, in which John Mason in "Jim, the Penman," will be the attraction. This is another Famous Player production on the Paramount program.

Fatty Arbuckle is a Scream at Lion

Roars of laughter greeted the showing of "Fatty's Plucky Pup" at the Lion theater yesterday. "Fatty" Arbuckle, assisted by a number of well-known funmakers and a dog, put up one of the most enjoyable comedies seen in Phoenix in many a day. Arbuckle is a real comedian and creates laughs without vulgarity, while the dog, which is known as "Fatty's Plucky Pup" is certainly smart and is responsible for many of the funny situations. "Fatty's Plucky Pup" will be shown for the last time today, and every child in Phoenix should be sure to see it. The balance of the program is good and consists of "The Diamond from the Sky," which is a splendid number, and two other dra-

LIFE LONG AFFLICTION OF REBECCA M'GUE

The funeral of Rebecca McGue, who committed suicide at a lodging house last Thursday night, took place yesterday from the Catholic church. Richard McGue, a brother of the dead woman, arrived yesterday morning from Duluth, Minn. He said that his sister was 52 years of age. She was born in Illinois.

Her brother said that she had been afflicted with mental trouble since she was six years old, when she suffered from sunstroke. It curiously happened that this trouble recurred annually in midsummer, and he believed that it was in such an aberration that she was driven to death.

She had been a teacher for several years and had taught with considerable success in different parts of the country. It was made known yesterday that she had failed in the examination held here about a month ago and that is supposed to have increased the weight of melancholy, under which she gave way.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation to your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of mess.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.
